SOUTH ORIENT RAILROAD ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT CORPORATION

Alliance performed an analysis of the economic impacts of the South Orient Railroad using the IMPlan Econometric model to determine the primary and secondary impacts of rail improvements that provide expanded levels of service and railroad capacity in the Fort Stockton area and throughout west Texas. Alliance also helped develop a strategic plan for obtaining funding from public and/or private sources to rehabilitate the South Orient Railroad infrastructure.

For this project and similar efforts, Alliance has key personnel with substantial experience in strategic planning for both public agencies and commissions and non-profit organizations.

Alliance staff members routinely work with boards that are comprised of elected officials and public representatives as well as non-profit agencies with diverse community representation to build consensus and vision while focusing on realistic implementation strategies.
