HOLCOMBE SQUARE PEDESTRIAN ENHANCEMENT

The project focus is to improve the pedestrian environment at Holcombe Boulevard between Main and Fannin Streets.

In addition to enhancing the pedestrian experience, the improvements will interface with Metro's Light Rail on Fannin Street, providing wider, safer and more comfortable sidewalks, safer street crossings and clarifying existing pedestrian wayfinding systems.

The design approach brings uniformity and coordination to the varied architectural and urban characters of the Medical Center allowing a sense of place to be created throughout the district.

An extensive public participation process, led by Keiji Asakura, helped determine the final design solutions.
