SAN JACINTO COLLEGE ALLIED HEALTH ADDITION

This project is part of the Public Space and Streetscape Category:

- Sustainable Landscape Design through LID techniques and LEED criteria
- Geometric pathways created connections to the campus and adjacent buildings
- Efficient irrigation design using rainwater from the roof and the A/C condensate gained LEED points in water efficiency credit
- Storm-water detention area features a bioswale with wetland plants for filtering runoff which created an outdoor demonstration area for sustainability
- Created an aesthetically pleasing and functional outdoor space which set the precedent for future campus open space design
