PARKING AND CIRCULATION PLAN

RS&H contracted with the City of St. Augustine, Florida in the development of a Parking and Transit Circulation Plan to assist in the movement of people throughout the historic downtown area.

St. Augustine is the oldest settlement continuously occupied by European descendants in the United States - portions of the City date back to 1565.

St. Augustine is one of Florida's most important historic and cultural assets and is a visitor venue that attracts over four million visitors per year. The downtown historic district also includes residential neighborhoods, Flagler College, numerous churches, and a collection of commercial businesses. The district is situated at the convergence of three major state roads.

As part of the City's efforts to protect the special nature of the district, RS&H was contracted to conduct a study and make recommendations to address the need for more parking on the periphery of the district and introduce new public transit services to reduce the amount of single-occupant driving.

The study resulted in a new Visitor Center being constructed with expanded parking facilities and locations where private transportation services can be accessed by visitors.

The Center was completed in 2007.
